II. 閱讀以下文章並依文章內容選出符合文意的答案(15% , 每題 3 分)

Online shopping has become a popular way of shopping. People can surf the internet and buy things that they want in the comfort of their own homes without having to go out. For example, there are businesses that allow customers to do grocery shopping online. Such a service is useful for people who are very busy or for people who are old or ill and cannot go out much. It is very convenient, but there are risks. Some people offer goods and services online that they do not really have. There are people who want to get your personal information so that they can use it to steal from you or buy things in your name. Moreover, when shopping online, shoppers cannot see the product that they are buying. They have to rely on pictures and any other information that the seller gives them. Sometimes the shopper can buy things that are not really what they want because they are not careful enough.

1. Why has online shopping become a popular way of shopping?
(A) You need to be very careful when you shop online.
(B) People can surf the internet in the comfort of their own homes without having to go out.
(C) Some people offer goods and services online that they do not really have.
2. "People can surf the internet" means that
(A) people can go on the internet and look for online materials.
(B) people can use a surfboard on the internet.
(C) people can eat and drink in an Internet café.

3. Doing grocery shopping online is not useful for people
 - (A) who like to go shopping in real stores.
 - (B) who are very busy and cannot go out to shop for themselves.
 - (C) who are old or ill and cannot go out much.

4. Which is not the reason why people need to be very careful when they shop online?
 - (A) They can do grocery shopping online.
 - (B) There are people who want to get your personal information.
 - (C) Some people offer goods and services online that they do not really have.

5. According to the text, what can people do with your personal information that they steal from you?
 - (A) To buy things that you really want.
